How Nominations are Tallied

Nominations for the Hugo Awards (and the Lodestar Award and Astounding Award) are tallied using a system known as E Pluribus Hugo (EPH). It has been in place since 2017 and is intended to reduce the impact of bloc voting in the nomination process. The EPH system was developed with significant input from Dr. Jameson Quinn, an expert in electoral science. He died of a fall in March this year and we wish to thank him and acknowledge the important work he did for the Hugo Awards.

Under EPH, nomination votes are tallied as follows:

- First, the total number of nominations from all ballots is tallied for each nominee. At each stage when a nominee is eliminated, this number will be the deciding factor.
- Next, a single point is assigned to each individual voter's nomination ballot. That EPH point is divided equally among all nominees on that ballot. (In later rounds of calculation, it is divided equally between remaining nominees.)
- Next, all EPH points from all nomination ballots are totaled for each nominee in that category.
- Next, the two nominees with the lowest EPH point totals are compared.
 - If there is a tie of more than two nominees with the lowest or second lowest point total, all of them are compared.
- Whichever of the nominees being compared has the fewer or fewest number of nominations (rather than EPH points) is eliminated and removed from all subsequent calculations.
 - If two or more nominees are tied for the fewest number of nominations, the nominee with the lowest point total tied at that round is eliminated.
 - If two or more nominees are tied for both fewest number of nominations and lowest point total, then all such nominees tied at that round shall be eliminated, unless that would leave fewer than six in play, in which case they all get onto the final ballot.
- Back to step 1 with the remaining nominees after the elimination.

Interpreting Nomination Tables

The column headed Nom lists the total number of nominations received by the nominee.

The columns to the right show EPH points for each nominee, starting from the tenth last round (as specified in the WSFS Constitution). The numbers in red with a † symbol in each of those columns show the points of the two (or more) nominees with the lowest EPH point totals, which are being compared to see which one should be eliminated.

The last column on the right is the final count, finalists who made the ballot are bolded. Those below the bolded entries are the nominees who were eliminated by the EPH process.

In cases where one or more of the top six nominees was not eligible for the category, or withdrew from consideration, they are struck through on the table and their places on the final ballot were taken by the last nominees to be eliminated, in reverse order.

Note that the Hugo administrators do not make eligibility decisions regarding nominees unless they have enough votes to qualify for the final ballot, so it is possible that some nominees below the bolded entries would also not have been eligible.
